The Examination

Paul van Schaik - Els Barkema-Sala

Oral Examination.

When you have studied the theory well, completed both essays and checked off all items on the Checklist affirmatively, then you can send your essays including all enclosures and attachments to the exam committee. When all has been reviewed, checked and approved, an appointment will be made for an oral exam of approximately one hour. If the essays are not approved, then areas for improvement will be indicated and you can send it all in again once due improvements have been effected.

In the oral exam you will be questioned profoundly about theory, about your practice experiences and about your inner growth or personal development. After you pass the exam, you will receive the Diploma for Level 1 from the Academy for Counselling and Coaching.

Should you live abroad at the time of the exam, then the examination may take place via telephone or Skype.

After the oral exam, your essays will be returned to you.

Time between submission of essays and oral exam generally takes 2 to 6 weeks. In holiday periods or extremely busy periods it may take a little longer.

The address of the exam committee is:

ACC - International Exam Committee

See our internetsite for the actual address.
